IMAGES REVERSED ON RETINA

Experiments Have Shown That Habit and Experience Counteract Effect of the Inversion.

The lenses of the eye produce on the retina an inverted image of objects looked at, and the question is often asked, "Why do things appear right-side up when their images are wrong-side up?"

It occurred to one investigator to try the effect of preventing the inversion of images on the retina. This was accomplished by means of an optical instrument that excluded from the eyes all light except that which passed through the instrument itself. The instrument was adjusted to the eyes at 3 o'clock one afternoon and was not removed (except at night, when the eyes were bandaged) until noon the next day. At first, to the person whose eyes were thus treated, everything seemed topsy-turvy and illusory, and the mind instinctively tried to imagine objects to be in the position in which they ordinarily appear. After a time, however, the feeling of the unreality of what was seen passed away, and the person experimented on even began to imagine everything that lay outside his field of vision to be arranged in the same way as what he saw. This goes to show that habit and experience counteract the effect of the inversion of images in the eyes.—Washington Star.

SEES HUMOR IN ETIQUETTE

Writer Considers All Forms in a Measure Ridiculous, but Sanctioned by Custom.

Nearly all etiquette is ridiculous, only we are more or less accustomed to it, and have largely modified its eccentricities. . . . Take kissing, for example. How well every man must remember how, when a small boy, he feared that his mother might kiss him in the presence of his schoolfellows. . . . What amusement, too, the kissing of foreign men on the railway platforms of the Continent has caused us! But witness the meeting of two great Morocco chiefs—the stately approach, the last few more hurried steps, and the graceful embrace as each bends forward and kisses the other's shoulder. I have seen the meeting of great men in Morocco in the hour of sorrow, when they have fallen upon each other's necks and wept. How few soldiers know that the origin of the salute they give today comes from the East, and is really no more than the movement of the subject to shield from his eyes the effulgent glory of his sovereign, only today it applies equally to the effulgent glory of his second lieutenant as well. Habit is everything, and prejudice scarcely less.—Walter B. Harris, in "Morocco That Was."

Bad for Patronage.

"How many movie theaters in Chiggersville?"

"Three," said Squire Witherbee.

"I suppose they are always crowded?"

"Not always. Sometimes the Ladies Uplift society recommends a film and business falls off considerably."

"Son, there are no short cuts to fame."

"But, dad, people do things in a few minutes and get their names in all the newspapers."

"Yes, son, and some of them find prison fare so unappetizing they have to send out for their meals."

A TERRIBLE TASK

Jocko—Were you going with the cannon balls?

Dr. Monk—Cannon balls nothing! I'm taking pills to a sick elephant.

Lucky.

A lucky man

He has a space
To park his car.

James, Are You Slipping?

She—James, dear; can you see the moon?

He—Yes, dear!

She—Oh, James! Then you don't love me any more!

He—Don't you know that love is blind?

The New York Idea.

Departing Passenger—This is a heck of a service.

Conductor — What's the matter? Couldn't you get a seat?

D. P.—Sure. I got a seat. But my wife had to stand up all the way.

Living Up to His Claim.

"Smith tells me that he would rather fight than eat," said Brown.

"Well, I guess he would," replied Jones. "I ate at his house one night."

Horticultural Hints

PEACH TREE BORER HARMFUL

Insects May Be Destroyed by Proper Use of Chemical Known as Paradichlorobenzene.

Wherever peaches are grown in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains the trunks and large roots of the trees are subject to attack by a white worm which feeds on the outer living layers of the tree. The peach tree borer may be detected by masses of gum containing sawdust-like particles which exude from the trunk of the tree near the ground. If the infestation is serious trees may be completely girdled in one or more seasons.

The larvae feed actively in the fall, spring and summer months; during the cold winter they are more or less dormant. When the larvae become full grown during the summer they construct cocoons, composed of particles of excrement or bark bound together with gum and silk, and turn into brown pupae. The cocoons may be found on the trunk in the old burrows or in the soil adjacent to the tree. In three or more weeks the adult moths emerge.

The peach tree borer may be controlled by removing or killing the borers by the use of a sharp knife or by treating with paradichlorobenzene.

The gas coming from the crystals of paradichlorobenzene appears to be heavier than air. One ounce treatments placed about peach trees when the temperature of the soil is 70 degrees F. or higher requires six or more weeks for complete evaporation, while one ounce of crystals placed about peach trees when the soil is 50 degrees F. or lower (as in November) will remain in the soil from November to July.

Paradichlorobenzene is non-poisonous to man (unless taken into the stomach), but decidedly poisonous to insects when they are exposed to it for a considerable period of time. The gas will injure tender roots and the growing tissues under the bark of most plants. Fortunately the bark on peach trees six years of age or older is thick and acts as a barrier for the tender growing layers underneath.

The crystals should be evenly distributed in a continuous narrow circular band two inches from the tree. Do not place the crystals against the trunk, for serious injury may result. Material placed four to six inches from the tree has given fairly satisfactory results, providing the soil is dry and plenty of dirt is placed above the crystals.

After the material is in a ring about the tree, place several shovels (four to six) of dirt free of weeds, grass, sticks, large stones, etc. over the crystals and compact them with a shovel, a hoe, or otherwise. The first shovel of earth placed above the "death ring" should be finely divided and carefully placed on top of the crystals in order that the position of the paradichlorobenzene will not be disturbed.

GOOSEBERRIES AND CURRANTS

Soil Requirements Are More Exacting Than Those of Blackberries and Raspberries.

The soil requirements of both gooseberries and currants are a little more exacting than those of either blackberries or raspberries, but a reasonably good soil can be made to produce these crops if the location is right, and the proper kind of fertilizer used. A northern slope is to be preferred rather than a southern or eastern, and about the home, there is no better place than on the north of buildings and between the rows of fruit trees in the orchard. In the northern limit of production they would not need this protection from the sun. A sandy soil is not suited to either gooseberries or currants, though in some places in the extreme North they grow in the mountains where there seems to be little soil of any kind.

Long Sore Throat.

Lives of all giraffes remind us
It would surely get our goat
If we caught a cold and had to Suffer two yards of sore throat.

In 1914 an enterprising Danish Post Master conceived the idea of using a stamp as a Tuberculosis Seal in order to secure funds for a sanatorium for children.

But to America belongs the honor of the first seal, which was the charity stamp that originated during the Civil War, when over a million dollars was raised to care for soldiers in Northern hospitals.

Later in 1917, Jacob Riis, the well known writer and friend of Theodore Roosevelt, received one of the Danish Tuberculosis Christmas Stamps. He wrote an article about it for the OUTLOOK, when Miss Emily Bissell, a prominent Tuberculosis worker in Delaware conceived the idea of using a Christmas Stamp to establish a Tuberculosis Hospital outside of Wilmington. The first seal sale brought $3,000 for Miss Bissell's project. The following year the great International Congress on Tuberculosis was held in Washington. This was the beginning of organized effort for the control of Tuberculosis in America. The American Red Cross adopted the stamp for their own work and in 1908 the sale brought $135,000, raised chiefly through volunteer organizations.

The National Tuberculosis Association organized at the International Congress joined with the American Red Cross and under the terms of Agreement, the National Association became the general agent of the American Red Cross during the seal sale. The State Associations organized, received their supplies and remitted ten per cent to the National Tuberculosis Association and Red Cross to be used for further organization work. The Red Cross withdrew from active conduct of the sale and lent to the Tuberculosis Association its emblem and name and they gave to the entire seal sale their moral and financial backing.

In 1919, because of the continued war activities of the Red Cross, and the fact that the war on Tuberculosis had been carried on so successfully that it was necessary to give the Tuberculosis work a separate identity, the Christmas Seal relations were severed with the Red Cross and the Double-barred Cross, which is the emblem of Tuberculosis work the world over, was used on the seal. It has now become a national institution. $20,000,000 have been raised in pennies in the last fifteen years. The Tuberculosis map itself speaks eloquently of the influence of the Christmas Seal. Today, every State has a Tuberculosis Association with 1200 affiliated Associations.

In the beginning of the first seal sale there were only 100 hospitals and sanatoria for the treatment of Tuberculosis. Today, there are 700 with 63,000 beds and 550 clinics in the United States. At the first seal sale the death rate from Tuberculosis was 200 people in every 100,000 population. Today, it has dropped to 114 per 100,000.

In California in 1914, the first organized seal sale was carried on. The death rate was 189 persons per 100,000 and today, it is 151 per 100,000. Every town and county in California has an organized program for the control of Tuberculosis; the nurses, open air schools, clinics, children's camps, Preventoria, nutrition work, Occupational Therapy in the hospitals, help for patients, dental clinics, and all the educational work that has carried California into the front ranks with its program, have come as the result of Christmas Seals.

Every Community selling seals in California receives from the California Tuberculosis Association the supplies necessary to carry on the sale. 45,000,000 seals have been distributed in California and when the sale is over and has raised the quota, which is the sale of 20,000,000 seals, 75% of the funds will be kept locally, 5% will go to support the National Organization, the State Association will pay for the supplies furnished the local Association and out of the remainder will render service to whatever community needs extra help, during the year.

Animal Mimicry.

Observers of nature are frequently struck with the singular resemblances of insects to leaves, dried sticks and so forth, and these likenesses are supposed to have grown out of the necessity of protection against, or concealment from, enemies. An interesting example of this kind of resemblance was recently cited by a government naturalist, who exhibited a spider found inhabiting some rocks near Cannes, on which were also fastened the cases of a species of moth. When at rest the spider exhibited almost precisely the same form and color as the moth cases surrounding it.

JUDGE BELL FINES MANY

Judge Bell's court continues to be kept busy hearing cases involving the violation of the state motor vehicle laws. The motor officers have been very vigilent in their attempt to stamp out the reckless driving and "cutting in." Some time ago they began a campaign to enforce the automobile lighting laws, and the first drive brought into the net a large number of people, some of whom unintentionally were guilty of law violation. At any rate the effect has been wholesome as it has impressed on the motor drivers the need of more care in the proper lighting of their cars.

Following are the cases recently disposed of by Judge Bell:

E. G. Giroux, of Taft, speeding, $20.

Arthur Chaboys, San Jose, speeding, $20.

Life of Famous Queen Studied

An interested group of women gathered Monday at the library for the regular program of the Country Woman's Club and also to hear Mrs. Lucy McClintic discuss the amendments which she did most ably.

The business session was largely occupied with reports of committees concerning the library and lot. The report of the finance committee showing that more than the necessary $7,000 to make the pledges for the Library Fund binding, had been secured was received with acclaim and the members voiced their admiration and hearty appreciation of the untiring efforts of the ladies working on this committee.

Another matter of moment that was up for discussion was that relative to curb and gutter on the First Street side of the lot. In unison with other property owners on Campbell Ave. the club had already voted to put in the curb and gutter, but with the new building looming so imminently upon the horizon, the question arose of the east side being done at the same time. Action was deferred to await the result of joint committees of the Odd Fellows, Improvement Club and Country Woman's Club waiting upon the supervisors relative to further improvements of that street.

The literary program was to have been two book reviews, the first "The Private Character of Queen Elizabeth" by Frederick Chamberlain, to be given by Mrs. Frances Stray and Mrs. May Cooley, and one of an historical novel of the period by Mrs. Bessie Kennedy. Owing to the interpolation of the speaker on amendments Mrs. Kennedy's number was omitted. This book of Chamberlain's is an authenticated and documentary refutation of centuries old stigma resting upon the character of that great queen. Mrs. Stray had chosen her selections for reading so aptly and threaded them so skillfully together that her hearers formed a very good idea of the style of the book, and its subject matter.

Central Avenue Being Improved

North Central Avenue is being materially improved by the laying of cement walk on the East side of the first block beginning with the Frank Merrill property and continuing northward. The work of laying curb and gutter on the north side of Campbell Avenue is progressing rapidly. Several trees that were in the line of the curb have been removed and some on the opposite side must also come out.

The work is being done preparatory to the paving of the street which was determined upon some time ago, but could not be undertaken in the busy season of fruit hauling.

Large Delegation At San Mateo

The societies composing the Santa Clara District C. E. Union assembled at San Mateo last week from the 3rd to the 5th in their thirty-fourth annual convention.

A large delegation from the three societies of the Congregational church was in attendance at some or all of the sessions.

The names as here listed were not taken from the register and there may have been some present whose names were not given us. They were: Miss Hancie Naylor, District President, Rev. and Mrs. Eckles, Mrs. Theodore Cutting, Mrs. Guy Merriman, Evelyn Henry, Dorothy and Gladys Merriman, Hazel and Earnest Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thompson, Nellie Pitman, Elizabeth Turner, Alice Strom, Wanetta McConnell, Margaret Moore, Ruth Miller, Francis Duncan, Marion Austin, Anna Lund, Wilma Smith, Lucius Buck, Yale Maxon, Bernard Robson, Windsor Cutting, Stanley Stocker, Kenneth Peake, John Duncan, Jr., Willie Robinson, Albert Turner, Irving Townsend, Mary Maxon, Katherine Candu, Fern Evans, Lillian Archibald and Eva Robinson.

Latest Invalid Car Purchased

E. H. Melvin of Los Gatos has recently made a change in his ambulance, changing from the Cadillac invalid ambulance known as "The Big White Car" and replacing it with a Chandler Sedan Ambulance and Bomgarden chair-cot on wheels. This is the latest innovation for handling the sick and injured. The cot is placed in the automobile from the right side, making an easy lifting position for both attendants, and the cot is easily kept in a level position, thereby avoiding alarming a nervous patient; and doing away with the abrupt raising of one end as the attendant takes a quick backward step up. Curtains can be drawn insuring privacy—specially constructed springs and shock absorbers give very easy riding qualities.

This invalid car can be secured by residents of Campbell and vicinity for trips to hospitals or trains at any time of the night or day by calling the office or residence of Mr. Melvin, in Los Gatos.

Mr. Melvin was in Campbell Tuesday displaying his new car which is a very fine affair.

ENJOYABLE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. O. Strom was hostess Wednesday evening to about a score of the young friends of her son, David, and daughter, Alice, whose birthdays she was observing.

Dancing, games, music and a good time generally were enjoyed and then the supper completed a delightful evening.

Two birthday cakes adorned the table and with other good things were heartily enjoyed.

Orchard Information

FRUITS FOR HOME ORCHARDS

Little Expense and Time Required for Providing Various Delicacies for Table Use.

An excellent way to become more independent and prosperous is to start a home orchard so there will soon be plenty of fruits for the family to use in the various ways for convenience and for economy in living. Surely the little expense and time required to start a home orchard could not be used to better account these days of stress.

The first essential will be to break the land, if it has not already been turned, as soon as the site for the orchard has been chosen. Deep, well-drained land with at least fair fertility is best. If this land is available near the home it is all the better, for the home orchard ought to be handy so fresh fruits may be gathered and brought in when wanted. The land should be well broken and put in excellent condition before the trees are to be transplanted.

Berries are essential for the home orchard. They bear before other ordinary fruits such as peaches, apples, plums and pears. It requires a small area of land to produce an abundance of berries, but every farmer should plant liberally enough for the needs of his own family.

Of the berries, none are better, none surer than strawberries. Two or three varieties of strawberries will be a good way to extend the season for this luscious fruit. Mitchell, Klondyke, Aroma, Norwood, Senator Dunlap are worthy of places in the berry patch.

Set the strawberry plants in rows about three and one-half or four feet apart. Cultivate very carefully, keeping weeds down and a mulch on the surface during the summer, or until the plants spread so cultivation is no longer possible.

Dewberries are treated somewhat like strawberries. The rows are, however, a little wider to permit cultivation till the vines extend over the mid dles.

Blackberries may be set in rows about six feet apart when transplanted for the home berry patch. Plants may be four feet apart in the row.

Some Well Pruned Peach Trees.

Peaches will respond to good preparation and good care afterwards. Several varieties will be desirable to afford fruit, early, mid-season and late.

Of the early apples, Red June, Yellow Transparent, Sweet Bough, Maiden Blush, Red Astrachan are suitable. Later varieties or early fall sorts: Jonathan, Grimes, Delicious, Ben Davis. Late: Mammoth Black Twig, Winesap, Stamen. There are many others.

Varieties of plums recommended by Prof. J. R. Cooper, Arkansas College of Agriculture, are: Wild Goose, Shropshire, Damson, Red June, Burbank, Abundance, Arkansas. The following raspberries: Red, King or Cuthbert, Kittating or Snyder; black, Black Pearl, St. Regis are favored.

The orchard land may be prepared, then the trees set any time during late winter when the season is favorable or in spring before the buds swell—usually, the earlier the better, to give the roots a chance to start the hair-like roots to nourish the trees and build up tissues in growth.

NO ECONOMY IN SMALL TREES

Young Plants Have Had Little Time to Show Their Qualities and Cannot Be Culled.

It is poor economy to buy very small trees. Two-year-olds are best, though an experienced man, with careful attention, can get just about as good results with good one-year-olds, but it takes an expert. One thing is that the younger trees have had less time to show their characteristics, and can not be culled as closely as the older ones.

PROPER TOOLS FOR PRUNING

Wood Axe Is Essential for Efficient Work—Lop Shears and Saw Are Very Handy.

An efficient job of pruning cannot be done with the wood axe. If you feel that you cannot afford a set of pruning tools for the amount of work you have to do, get your neighbor to go in with you and purchase tools together. The two handiest pruning tools are lop shears (shears with handles 2 to 2½ feet long), and a pruning saw.

BRONZE TURKEY IS POPULAR

Largest of All Domesticated Fowls and Most Favored, Whether for Profit or Pleasure.

The Bronze turkey is the largest of all domesticated turkeys, the cocks weighing 36 pounds, and the hens 20 pounds, according to their standard of weights.

Besides the Bronze turkeys, the others of the turkey family are the Narragansett, White Holland, Black Buff, Slate and the Bourbon Red turkeys.

Each of these varieties of turkeys is bred with more or less profit, but the Bronze is the most popularly bred of all turkeys, whether for pleasure or profit.

Fine Type of Bronze Turkey.

The breeding stock is the first essential feature of profitable turkey raising, and the better, the healthier, the stronger the breeding stock, the greater will be the results.

Vigorous, healthy breeding hen turkeys should always be over one year old, two and three-year-old hens are even better for breeders.

Direct Benefit.

"How did you like my sermon against gambling?" asked the new minister at Crimson-Gulch.

"I liked it great," replied Cactus Joe.

"Did it help you?"

"A whole lot. I had bet Three-Finger Sam $50 that 'ud be the first subject you'd address us on."

Cheering Prospect.

"Does Mr. Bibbles want to go to heaven?"

"Of course, but he's not ambitious."

"Eh?"

"He'll be content with what Conan Doyle calls one of the lower spheres where beer and light wines are served."

Tricks in All Trades.

"A great many 'Paris gowns' were never in Paris."

"And there is more to the story."

"Yes?"

"Some of our fashionable modistes with French names were born to good American monikers." — Birmingham Age-Herald.

Nothing Stirring.

"Mr. Wauleigh, a lady outside says she is soliciting funds for some worthy cause or other and wants you to give until it hurts."

"Return to the lady, Mr. Squills, and tell her the giving pain I acquired during the war has become chronic."

Profitable Farm Orchard.

A small farm orchard can be made a very profitable enterprise if it receives timely spraying and pruning. In fact a half-acre orchard will, on the average, when properly cared for, return a greater profit than several acres in ordinary farm crops.

Preparing Orchard Soil.

Preparation of the soil for orchard setting should hardly be less thorough than for a corn crop. Just as they need a fertile soil, they need a soil well filled with humus.

Campbell vs. All the United States

Last week we showed that the 357 children participating in the local School Savings System have on deposit a grand total of $3,429.67. Just how wonderfully fine that showing is can best be understood by comparing our system with all the rest of the United States.

By courtesy of the First Berkeley Branch of the Mercantile Trust Company, we have at hand the national "School Savings Honor Roll." The honor roll is divided into classes, according to the number of pupils enrolled in each savings system, as follows: Class A, over 10,000; Class B, 5,000 to 10,000; Class C, 2,000 to 5,000; Class D, under 2,000. The point selected for comparison in each class is the average individual deposit. The figures that especially interest us are the average individual deposits that are highest.

Here they are:

Class A—Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania	$7.54
Class B—Meridan, Connecticut .	6.09
Class C—Alameda, California . .	8.84
Class D—Marine City, Michigan .	5.08

And here is the average individual deposit of the Campbell Union-Cambrian system $9.60

Bearing in mind that some of the school savings systems named in the national Honor Roll have been operating for several years, while the local system is only one year old, the record of the home schools in beating all the rest of the United States is all the more remarkable.

Last week we called our Savings System our "School Farm." Local pride is strong for local prunes and "cots;" but thrift education, along with "book-learning," is going to produce the best crop of all—high grade women and men.

Square Deals in Odd Cents

Fairness to the consumer is often best secured by prices fixed in odd cents. This method avoids some "evens," fives or tens or multiples of them, that would be either unnecessarily high, or else below the profit level essential to the rendering of good service. Odd cents, then, used within reason, can be made to serve as a fine contribution to the cause of just merchandising.

Here are some familiar staples priced in odd cents on the square deal principle:

Mrs. Martha Wade went to Monterey Monday for a few days visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. M. Warren arrived last week from Elmira, California and are occupying the Methodist cottage on North Second Street.

Miss Henrietta Toles underwent a serious operation for spinal trouble Friday, but is reported as convalescing very satisfactory.

The fire hall and fence have been painted an attractive shade of brown, a decorative sign placed on the building and flowering plants set out along the fence, all of which has added greatly to its appearance and that of the street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Toles and Charles, Jr., are here from San Francisco visiting Mrs. Julia Toles. Mr. Toles has been suffering from a severe case of tonsilitis which for a time threatened to develop diphtheratic symptoms but fortunately took a turn for the better.

Miss Adah Nelson and brother, Frank, came down from Berkeley Tuesday for a short stay, returning Wednesday evening.

About fifty of the Campbell Grangers visited the grange at Aromas Saturday night, the pleasant affair taking place in the new hall just erected by that order.

Mrs. Mary Lanphear and Miss Sadie Maxon went to Riverbank, near Modesto yesterday where they will assist their sister, Mrs. Stanford, in getting settled in a new home into which they have moved from Oakdale.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nichols, and family, friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Davey, have come to Campbell from Bakersfield and are living in the Kennedy house on Rincon Avenue near Lloyd Selig's home. Mr. Nichols is a carpenter and has gone to work with Mr. O. Strom. The gentleman is interested in band work and conducted a very successful boy's band for several years before his removal to Bakersfield.

Tuesday, November 14, is the time for the regular monthly meeting of the High School P. T. A. at which time it is expected that Jos. E. Hancock, county superintendent elect, will be present and address the club. The hour is 3 p. m. in the High School auditorium.

Parents of high school students have been invited to enjoy a social evening together, becoming acquainted with each other and with the members of the faculty. The affair will be held in the banquet room of the Odd Fellows Hall this (Friday) evening.

Mrs. Ralston Alison and sisters received telegraphic announcement Wednesday that their father, J. H. Conway, had been elected Probate Judge for his county in Missouri, he being the Democratic candidate.

Decidedly heavy rains have fallen this week, that of Tuesday night being unusually so. The rainfall in the mountains has been exceptionally heavy as Tuesday morning, Los Gatos creek was flowing a full stream, rather unusual this time of the year with no preceding rains of any severity.

Social Tea And Plant Sale

The ladies of the Pundita Circle are planning an afternoon tea in conjunction with a plant sale to be held at the Campbell Hotel on Wednesday November 22. Careoline Pitkin Brock of San Jose will talk on trees and shrubs.

The money realized will be part of that which this club intends to raise for its pledge to the Library Fund.

This will be a splendid opportunity to secure valuable plants and hear an interesting discussion of their growth and cultivation, while enjoying a fragrant cup of tea.

NEW DEPARTMENT STORE FOR CAMPBELL

A. T. Devey, who came to Campbell this summer and has but just occupied the new home which he has built on Campbell Avenue west of the C. L. Watson property, is soon to realize his desire and will open a new store in Campbell.

The I. O. O. F. lodge has decided to alter the lower front hall of its building and rent it to Mr. Davey as a store. A glass store front will be put in and other changes made to convert it into a store room. The necessary alterations will be inaugurated at once and Mr. Davey hopes to begin business early in December.

At present he is busy in ordering stock for a first class dry goods store. He will also have a shoe department and handle furniture. There seemingly is a very good opening here for these lines and residents of this community will welcome such a store in Campbell.

When ready for business we bespeak for Mr. Devey a very liberal patronage, so that he may continue in business in Campbell.

New Library Now Assured

To use a racing expression, the ladies conducting the Library Campaign, have passed the three-quarter-mile post and are now on the home stretch.

As the pledge cards stated, and as has been constantly reiterated, no pledge was to be binding until a total of $7,000 had been secured, so that has been the first great point to achieve and now that that has been done and over $7300 has been promised, the final goal seems more possible of attainment.

It is the earnest hope of the promoters of this great undertaking, that some who have not felt confidence in the ultimate success of the campaign will now be ready to put their shoulder to the wheel too and help with the final work of bringing the amount up to the full $10,000.

Fine Program For Library Benefit

After scanning the program which Mrs. Vaudine Putnam Sanders has arranged for the Library Fund benefit, there can be no question that the price set for the entertainment is very low.

Interpretive dances and others of a national type will be given as solo or group numbers by pupils that Mrs. Sanders has been teaching.

The program is appended:

Part I

The entertainment will be presented Friday evening, November 17, in the Grammar School Auditorium, at 8 o'clock.

Tickets were placed on sale Monday and have been in great demand, priced at 15 cents for children under twelve, 25 cents for adults and 35 cents for reserved seats.

Hallowe'en Jinks At Campbell Hi.

On Hallowe'en night the annual reception of the Campbell Union High School student body for the Freshman Class was held at the school house. The entertainment was staged as a masquerade which met with the approbation of the young people who entered with zest into the plans and preparations and appeared in all styles of dress from charming to grotesque.

The faculty donned the garb and make up of a colored family and furnished part of the program, as did some of the students. A jazz band added its quoto to the joy of the evening which was altogether a long to be remembered occasion.

Eats were quite in harmony with the plan of the evening consisting of baked beans, bread and butter, coffee and chocolate.

It is perhaps superfluous to add that the students in the freshman class were properly initiated into the ranks of the school, of which they are now bona fide members.

SUPPOSE YOU WERE THE MERCHANT—

You would be alert at all times to offer only the highest quality merchandise obtainable.
You would be prompt in caring for your customers' needs
You would pay your employes and creditors on time and you would run your business in a punctual, orderly manner.
But what would you expect of your customers in return for this superior service? You would, at least, expect that they show their appreciation by paying their bills on time.
If you have unconsciously developed a habit of neglecting to pay your merchants when bills fall due, you are "breaking ground" for a poor rating in every merchant's books. It is just as easy to pay your bills on time. You will have more enjoyment from everything you buy when you know that you are playing fair.

A rainbow at 9 o'clock at night—and that, too, election night, sounds queer. Nevertheless, it is true. F. F. Watkins, the manager of the Los Gatos Telephone Co., known for his verarity and reliability, saw the rainbow in the west at the above specified time. Mr. Watkins states that it was a beautiful sight.

W. C. T. U.

Several distinctive features contributed toward making the Campbell W. C. T. U. meeting on November 1st, a very enjoyable occasion. The meeting opened with devotional exercises led by evangelistic superintendent, Mrs. Ella Kennedy. Roll call brought forth many favorite passages of Scripture.

After a brief business session the president, Mrs. M. J. Wilson gave copious notes from the state convention and made some very interesting quotations from the brilliant speakers. Then followed a talk by the county president, Mrs. M. E. Hollingsworth. It was pleasant to hear the county president compliment Campbell union upon the faithful attendance and service of its president at the convention. Mrs. Hollingsworth also gave echoes from the convention, and instructions regarding the work of the coming year. Mrs. Lucy McClintic, the bright, capable president of San Jose W. C. T. U. gave a talk upon the amendments, and upon request, a little information as to the principles of a few of the men whose names appear on the ballot. It is hoped that in the near future there may be increased educational tests for voting at state elections and that the womanhood of the country may not be found wanting when weighed in the balance. Then, there is bound to be an increasing demand for officials of higher character than has been the case in many of our cities.

Mrs. McClintic had made careful study of the amendments and answered many questions with clearness and patience. The ladies were given a rising vote of thanks. The hostess, Mrs. A. J. Farley, served delicious refreshments during the social hour. The cosy home, not wanting in lovely flowers and the hospitable atmosphere, the gracious hostess, the united membership, the congenial guests,—all contributed toward making the "Ballot Party" one to be pleasantly remembered among the many held by these loyal and purposeful women.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Henry Young, November 15.

Type of Perfect Lily.

at any season if suitable moisture conditions for germination are maintained. In northern climates, if seed is planted out of doors, it should be sown in the autumn for spring germination.

Until the trade produces seed of the lily and offers it for sale, it is pointed out, it will be necessary for the grower to raise his own seed. The best way to do this now is to procure imported bulbs either in the early winter, when they are generally offered for sale, or at Easter time, when most of the plants are in blossom, and grow seed for planting the following January.

Footprints.

"Dad, I want to leave footprints on the sands of time."

"Well, leave go-ahead footprints. Don't be a sidestepper."

An Interesting Invention.

"Doctor Molar? He's the dentist who invented a new style of bridge."

"Really! I must learn it. We're rather fed up on auction."

The fiftieth anniversary of Rev. John J. Cunningham's entrance into the Society of Jesus will be celebrated at St. Ignatius Church, San Francisco, on Sunday, September 24.

The Japanese steamer Rhauo Maru was forced to return to her dock at San Francisco last week as a result of colliding in the bay during the night with the steamer South Coast, a lumber schooner.

Mastodon and Elephant.

The mastodon differed from the elephant in having shorter legs, a lower and more flattened head, with smaller and simpler grinding teeth, lower crowned and rooted with three or four high, transverse, enamel-covered crests without cement. The tusks were smaller, but the mastodon had a single small tusk concealed in the lower jaw, a remnant left from an ancestral type which bore two sets of large tusks, one set in the upper and the other set in the lower jaw. He was some beast, this mastodon, who came to the beach at Long Branch to sniff the ocean breezes and enjoy the juicy foliage of the low-branched trees which grew close along the shore in those days.

ONLY a few generations ago the barber with his limited knowledge and skill was the community surgeon. Today surgery is a very highly specialized and respected profession.

As in the medical profession so in another calling, one we do not often think about or appreciate, the progress is similarly striking. The service of the modern funeral director is founded on a large fund of new scientific knowledge. It is backed up with facilities that provide for every possible requirement and take the place when desired of hospital, church and home.

It is a service that knows no eight hour day or any social or financial distinction, that places no limitations on what you may wish, that serves you this very day, through its complete preparedness.
